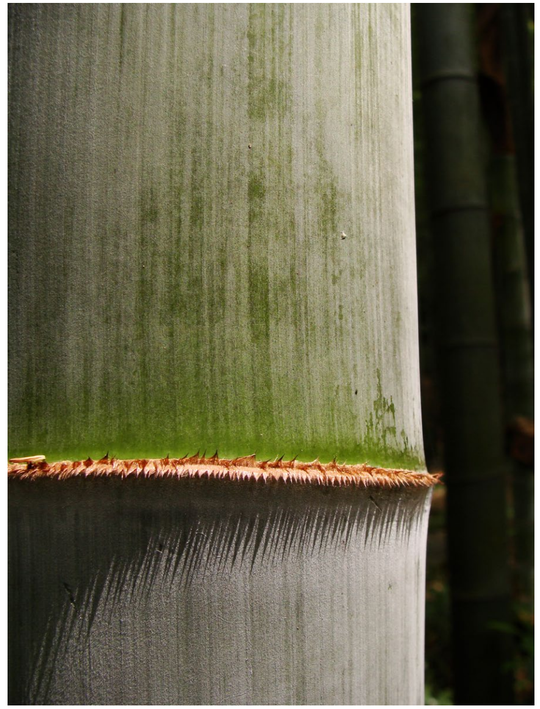
Bamboo Pendant Lamps

In a world where plastic products are predominating and congesting the environment and where ancient knowledges and skills are dying with the elders, we are proud to safeguard handmade traditions produced with renewable materials and invest in the art of living in harmony on this Earth.

Since 2013 OrientalBazar Studio has been sourcing and designing sustainable and ethnic furnishing merchandises to supply the most tuned and authentic customers around the world.

From Zen minimalism to the intricate craftsmanship of indigenous minorities, our inspiration is fed by the native and eclectic Asian spirit.



Versatile and fast growing, bamboo is a major element in the countryside life from Japan to Indonesia. Strong and flexible it is useful in uncountable ways. Organic and readily renewable, it is sustainable by nature.

Our selection of bamboo lamps are originated from folk items commonly used in rural Asia repurposed into modern lighting. Storage baskets, fishing traps, farming hats... These humble crafts feature in the routine of ordinary people for thousands of years and still enchant with their functionality and beauty providing us with a link to the natural world and a more natural lifestyle.

PL01

Rustic Fish Trap Pendant Light

An unique tool made just from the outer layer of bamboo, this trap is used by villagers across Thailand to catch catfish in their flooded rice paddies to sell in fresh markets or provide food for their families while waiting for the rice to be ready to harvest. Farmers patiently wait for a catfish to approach, then place the trap down in the water. Using the hole in the top they are able to reach in and pull out their dinner.

PL02

Bamboo Stick Basket Pendant Light

Original bamboo container basket made with combined techniques: plaited bamboo laths on the top surface; looped inner layers of bamboo on the bottom rim; and thin bamboo sticks sewed together with straw forming the rounded wall of the basket. The straight and linear distribution of the parts in the design make this a minimalist piece.

PL04

Fine Fish Trap Pendant Light

This lamp originated from a passive fish trap traditional in Northern Thailand. Differently from the active fishing traps, the passive ones are placed at specific spots in rivers, canals or lakes, often with a bait to attract the fish that can easily come into the trap but are not able to get out due to an attached bamboo piece with sharp pointed sticks closing the entrance.

PL05

Flexible Chinese Lantern

Woven for centuries by Chinese merchant migrants in Southeast Thailand, this is a special piece of basketry made using thin bamboo strips in an intricate process that results in a versatile lantern. With a simple string mechanism the shape can be quickly changed from oblong to a sphere, to a bowl shape or anything in between.

PL09

Woven Hat Shape Pendant Light

Conic straw or leaf hats have been a symbol of East and Southeast Asia for a long time. This lampshade inspired by the iconic hats is made using a triaxial weaving technique that results in an intricate pattern that resembles a network of circled stars. Made with thin bamboo laths it is a very lightweight piece.

PL10

Food Cover Pendant Light

Woven originally as a food cover, this piece is widely used in traditional households to protect fruits, vegetables or left over food from insects and other animals. It is made using fine bamboo strips in a tight woven pattern leaving very small gaps to prevent flies from going in, which as a lampshade, allow less direct light through the basket.
